In Honor of Burnside

Winners of the 1933 Accident Prevention Contest Praised at Victory Dinner

Trainmen on the no-accident honor roll were praised as the "cream of the Surface Lines service" by President Richardson at the Ninth Annual Accident Prevention Dinner at the Southmoor Hotel on Tuesday evening, April 3.

President Richardson

"To go through a period of months or years without a chargeable accident," he declared, "is the best possible proof of alertness and efficiency. The trainman who has no accidents for which he is responsible is not only a safe trainman but one who can usually be relied upon to perform all of his duties courteously and effectively. They all go together—courtesy, efficiency and a good accident record."

Mr. Richardson pointed out that 7,462 trainmen had no chargeable accidents for the fiscal year ended January 31, and of this total number, 5,699 have had no chargeable accidents for two years, 4,640 for three years, 3,985 for four years, 3,146 for five years, 2,264 for six years and 1,530 have had no chargeable accidents for seven years.

At the close of his address Mr. Richardson, on behalf of the management, presented a radio to the men at Burnside, Division Two, the winners of the 1933-34 Accident Prevention Contest. He congratulated Division Superintendent Altemeier, Assistant Division Superintendent Watson, the supervisors, all the men in the train service and the employees of the shops and equipment department for the splendid work they had done in winning the contest. He also expressed appreciation of the good work of the men at Elston-Noble, Lincoln, 77th Street and 69th Street, ranking second, third, fourth and fifth respectively, with only a slight difference in percentage between them.

Introductory remarks were made by Mr. Pasche, Supervisor of Accident Prevention, and Mr. Evenson, Superintendent of Transportation, both of them commenting on the interest taken in accident prevention.

Pointing out the difficulties of operation in streets infested with reckless and incompetent automobile drivers, Mr. Richardson declared that to operate without a chargeable accident is the best possible proof of real ability and intelligence.

Division Superintendent Altemeier

"Consequently," he said, "the men who have the best records in accident prevention invariably also have the best records in the performance of their regular duties. They are courteous because they are intelligent and they know that courtesy is necessary in the type of service we are endeavoring to give the public, and they are efficient."

"I do not hesitate, therefore, in saying that the splendid public relations built up by this system are due in a very large measure to you men on the no-accident honor roll."

"In two classes of accidents we have made marked improvement in recent years. In 1914 claims resulting from car collisions were 14 per cent of all claims paid by the company. Last year this class of accidents was responsible for only 4 per cent of all claims. Car and person accident claims reached a high peak of 20 per cent of all claims in 1915, but last year these claims were only 9 per cent of the total."

"Progress has been made in accident prevention in other departments besides the train service."

"The shops and equipment department entered the inter-plant safety contest conducted by the Chicago Safety Council and made a very creditable showing. In the six months period ended December 31, the carhouse repair shops of that department finished second in the city-wide competition."

"In the track and roadway division of the engineering department, 110 eyes have been saved in the past eight years through insistence upon the use of goggles."

"In the utility department the results of accident prevention work are indicated by the fact that, last year, maintenance costs resulting from collision between vehicles owned by the Surface Lines and other vehicles was decreased sixty-six and two-thirds per cent as compared with the previous fiscal year. Of the 88 employees of this department, 72 had no chargeable accidents during the year, a very commendable showing."

After these congratulatory remarks Mr. Richardson turned a critical eye on the accident reports for the last year, calling attention to the increase of 17 per cent in the number of accident reports which, he said, might be explained at least partially by the greater effort made to eliminate blind cases and to report accidents for which the company is not responsible, such as persons falling in the street before boarding the car or after they have alighted.

"That cannot be said, however, of the increase of 10 per cent in fatalities or of the increase of 112 per cent in the number of motormen having six accidents or more during the year; and I can find no reason whatever for the dropping off in the number of no-accident trainmen from 8,040 in 1932 to 7,462 last year.

"In looking over the reports on accidents I find that pedestrians struck at street crossing lead all other classifications in the number of fatalities. Next comes collisions with automobiles. These two classifications account for about 70 per cent of all fatalities. If we could reduce the number of these two types of accidents we would go a long way toward setting a new low record in fatalities.

"Accidents resulting from persons thrown or falling in cars comprise another classification requiring careful watching. Curves prepared by the accident investigation department showing the relative costs of various classes of accidents over a period of years, indicate an alarming growth in claims resulting from accidents caused by jerky starting or stopping. Until the end of 1922 falling-in-car accident claims amounted to not more than two and one-half per cent. Until the end of 1925 this percentage was not greatly increased, but the curve started up after that year and in 1933 this class of accident claims was about 12 per cent of the total.

"The Surface Lines management is trying out new equipment for the purpose of determining what can be accomplished in smoother operation by automatic acceleration and improved braking mechanism, but in the meantime the present equipment must be operated with greater care in order to increase the comfort of passengers and reduce accident hazards."

Here Mr. Richardson turned to the situation confronting the Company relative to its right to operate in city streets, asserting that the future of the organization depends to a very large extent upon good will and that good will can be created or destroyed by the attitude of employees.

"As an organization we are facing conditions today that contain many elements of uncertainty," he said. "For nearly four years now we have been looking forward to the consummation of the provisions of the ordinance passed in 1930, providing for a unification of the elevated and surface lines properties and the establishment of a sound basis for future growth and improvement. That ordinance was definitely cancelled and all of its provisions annulled by the failure of the City Council to grant a further extension of the date for its acceptance after today.

"As you know, the Surface Lines are operating on a day to day permit from the city, extending the provisions of the 1907 ordinances, at present until June 1. What the future holds for us no one can predict with any degree of certainty.

"There is a general impression that all of these problems will be settled by negotiations between the owners of the properties and the city government. The tendency is for the men in the organization to feel that there is nothing they can do about it. This is a mistaken view.

"Your part in the solution of this problem is to give the public the best service of which you are capable; to make the public consciously aware of the fact that street cars are performing an essential service and are doing it so well that there is no place for a competitor.

"There is no question but that the type of service provided by this organization was to a very large extent responsible for the vote of nearly six to one in favor of the 1930 ordinance at the referendum in July of that year. For three years after the expiration of our franchises we had proved by the quality of our service that we had faith in this industry, faith in the people of Chicago and that we took seriously the obligation to provide adequate transportation for Chicago. In the light of that performance the people of this city had no doubt as to our willingness and ability to carry out the provisions of the new ordinance.

"Unfortunately this ordinance was enacted at the beginning of the worst depression this country has ever seen. Court action delayed its acceptance for two years and the depression made it impossible to work out the financial details for some time after that. This was no fault of the management of these properties. We went ahead doing the best we could while the negotiations between groups of security holders were going on. We kept faith with the public by expending some three or four million dollars for some 27 miles of rail extensions and other improvements which we were not obligated to make until after the new ordinance became effective. This is in addition to 55 miles of bus routes, most of which were installed about the time the ordinance was passed. In the past three years we have expended millions in renewing track, roadway and overhead and in the overhauling and repainting of cars. We extended service to the Century of Progress Exposition, because we felt that we owed it to our patrons and to the community. At the very moment when the 1930 ordinance was being permitted to die we were demonstrating a new car of advanced design for the purpose of deciding upon the standards for future equipment. Another new car of different design will be delivered in a few weeks.

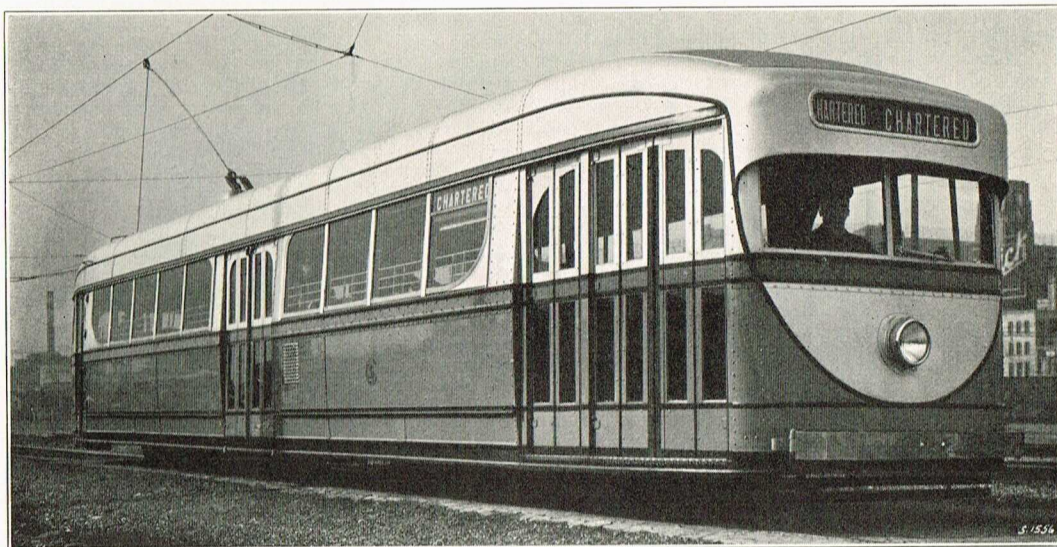

"There is no reason from the standpoint of public spiritedness on the part of the management or performance on the part of the men, why the public should not have as much confidence in us today as it had in 1930. In fact it should have more, because we have stuck to the job and have done our work well under most trying conditions.

"This is no time for discouragement or for a let-down in the morale of the organization. On the contrary we must exert ourselves as never before."

Streamlined Car Popular

Speed, Smooth Acceleration and Braking Power, Quietness and Comfort Praised by Riders

Brill Model that Marks Departure from Conventional Lines.

No motion picture actress newly arrived from glamorous Hollywood ever received the attention from the public and the press given to the new Chicago Surface Lines streamlined car since its arrival from the J. G. Brill factory in Philadelphia. Wherever it has appeared in Chicago it has created something akin to a furor.

As it glides down the street, displaying its ultra-modern lines, bright coloring and generally graceful appearance, people stop at the curb to watch it pass or rush wildly into the street to take a ride on it.

The car is the first of two ordered by the Surface Lines for demonstration purposes to determine the type of equipment to be used in the future. The other car is now being constructed at the Pullman works and will be ready within a few weeks.

When the new car first made its appearance on Tuesday, March 20, newspaper reporters and newspaper and news reel photographers swarmed around it and through it, getting descriptions and photographs. The next day it was stopped at the west door of the City Hall and the City Council took a recess and, together with Mayor Kelly, inspected it. It was then placed on display at Adams and State Streets and 15,000 people walked through it, commenting on its many attractive features.

Since that time it has been operated on various lines and everywhere it has met enthusiastic receptions.

Newspapers and magazines all over the country have printed pictures and descriptions of the car, hailing it as the newest thing in transportation. The Chicago Tribune cites it as evidence that the Surface Lines have demonstrated that they "have a substantial 'kick' in them by producing an experimental car featuring comfort, speed, acceleration and braking power." The editorial adds: "This new type of car also offers some advantages not general in bus transportation. As an instance, the opportunity to profitably employ transit time by reading a newspaper. For smooth riding the bus company is dependent to a certain extent on the condition of the roadways along the route, and in many cases reading is difficult, if not impossible, with average eyes."

The Chicago American praised the car, declaring it "distinguished for rapid pickup, beauty and comfort, but especially for the fact that it makes very little noise."

As an example of the interest shown by newspapers throughout the country several editorials could be cited. One in the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch under the heading "Streamlined Street Cars" is typical. It said in part:

"Only something out of the ordinary can make Chicago sit up and take notice. Gunmen can exchange shots most anywhere in the loop, and the city as a whole apparently thinks little of it. It remained for the first streamlined street car to make people there really become interested.

"Everything seems to run to the streamline today, and Chicago has gotten the jump on the street car idea. Perhaps it was the influence of the world's fair with its new ideas in building design that made Chicagoans feel they must get into line with advanced ideas."

In order to afford an opportunity for all

The car is powered with electrical equipment newly developed by the General Electric Company which gives it a quick and smooth getaway.

The brakes represent a distinct development from the standpoint of noise, smoothness and trainmen and people in various sections of the city to see the car, it went the rounds of the car stations, where it was placed on view for any who wanted to inspect it.

The car has a striking exterior appearance, is quiet in operation as the result of the use of new spring and rubber insulation and resilient wheels, has new lighting, heating and ventilating systems specially designed for it, leather upholstered seats and linoleum covered floors.

One of the most interesting features of the equipment is the use of a special wheel in which the axle is supported from the rim through a series of rubber plates, giving somewhat the same riding qualities as a rubber tire. Running on steel rails which are smoother than the ordinary pavement, these wheels and the special spring arrangement give a ride that is actually softer than the usual automobile ride.

Rubber also is used at various points throughout the working structure so as to prevent rattles or clatter.

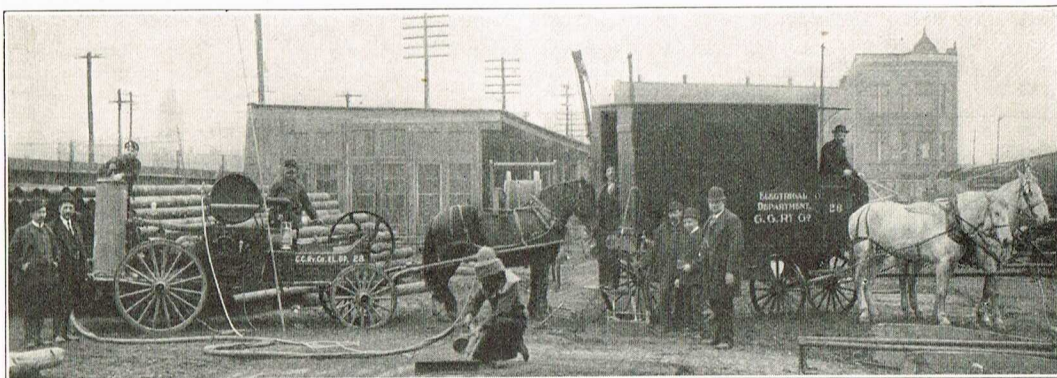

effectiveness. There are four systems of brakes, three of which are interconnected to a common brake pedal operated by the motorman. These three brakes include an eddy current brake, a magnetic track brake and a hydraulically operated drum brake mounted on the armature shaft of each of the four motors. In addition, it is possible to "buck" the motors if they should be necessary.

The lighting is of the indirect type with the light source concealed and reflected from the ceiling.

The heating and ventilating systems have been combined in such a way as to assure an adequate supply of fresh air at all times, properly heated as required in the winter under the control of a thermostat.

The car seats 58 passengers in comfortable leather seats.

The body is built principally of steel and the car is unusually light in weight.

The Surface Lines Relief Committee, in addition to the above disbursements, paid a total of $120,000 to the Joint Emergency Relief Association during the period from November, 1931, up to and including October, 1932, making the total expenditures for relief to date $564,266.43.

Nattinger Loses an Assistant

Myrtle Niederloh, who has been a capable and active assistant and stenographer for Chief Investigator Nattinger for several years, entering our service in June, 1927, resigned on April 15, it is rumored to keep house for Walter R. Niederloh (same name—but her husband nevertheless) whom she kept under cover for some time. It is also rumored that Mr. Niederloh is going into the grocery business in a live Wisconsin town. We don't know how Myrtle can keep busy enough just keeping house but Mrs. Niederloh has our best wishes for a happy and prosperous future.

HONORS FOR ALL

After complimenting Burnside as the winning station in the Accident Prevention Contest, congratulating the 7,462 trainmen whose names grace the Honor Roll, recording the triumph of the Streamlined car, and properly acknowledging the scores of commendatory letters relating to courteous and considerate service it would seem that the available space in this first issue of Volume 11 had been absorbed. And it only remains to express our regret to our correspondents that their interesting contributions had to be omitted from the April issue. They will find welcome space in the May number.

SURFACE LINES GARDEN CONTEST

Classification of Groups in the 1934 Garden Contest Announced by Committee

The Surface Lines Garden Committee, Messrs. F. M. Hamilton, J. E. Wilkie, and J. V. Sullivan are very happy to inform our loyal company gardeners, who, for many years have made the otherwise desert portion of our carhouses and yards blossom as the rose, that authorized official inspections will be made of all carhouses, substations, parking strips and loops in order to secure data on which to award ribbons for the winners, to be announced at a banquet to be given at the close of the season.

In order that those less favorably situated may have an equal chance to compete, blue and red ribbons will be awarded to the best and second best in the following groups:

1st Group—Carhouses whose enclosed area permit of extensive plantings of beds, borders and grass plots.

2nd Group—Carhouses, the enclosed area of which permits only a limited planting of beds, borders and grass plots.

3rd Group—Carhouses whose possibilities are restricted to beautifying parking strips and window boxes only.

4th Group—Loop and station plantings.

5th Group—Substation gardens and plantings.

6th Group—Particular excellence in growing any certain variety of flower. In making this award consideration will be given to height of plant, number and size of blooms, condition of foliage, etc.

Because comparatively few of our gardeners specialize in bulbs, and early spring flowers, the official inspections will only be made in July and September, at which time summer and fall gardens are usually at their best.

ARMITAGE VETERAN CELEBRATES

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Tullin Entertain on Golden Wedding Anniversary

The house of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Tullin at No. 2815 North Mozart street was the scene of a happy event on March 14, when the Tullins celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Tullin

Mr. and Mrs. Tullin were the hosts at a reception for their many friends and relatives with their four sons, two daughters and two grandchildren assisting them.

The Tullins were both born in Sweden and came to the United States in 1882 where they met and married in 1884. Mr. Tullin is 75 years old and his wife is 68. All of their 50 years of married life has been spent on the northwest side.

Mr. Tullin is a motorman for the Chicago Surface Lines, Armitage Depot. He is the oldest active man at Armitage and will complete fifty years with the Company in May.
