A SOUTH SHORE LINE INSPECTION TRIP!

Date: Saturday, October 23, 1999

Time: Leaves the Metra/South Shore Randolph Street Station in Chicago at 10:00 AM. (The station is beneath the intersection of Randolph and Michigan next to the Cultural Center.) Return to Chicago at 5:00 PM or 7:00 PM at your option.

CERA has arranged to have a car added to the regular train out of Chicago for your use. We will travel to the South Shore's shop complex at Michigan City, Indiana, where we will be given a guided tour of the facilities which are now operated by the Northern Indiana Commuter Transportation District.

There will be ample opportunities to photograph passenger and freight units and to ask detailed questions about operations. It is anticipated that the first of the South Shore's AC propulsion cars will be available to photograph as well. In addition, staff from NICTD's Marketing Department will be on hand to discuss future plans for "America's Last Interurban."

A box lunch will be provided at no additional charge to ticket holders. After lunch, passengers will have an option to either continue on to South Bend aboard a regular train or remain at Michigan City for an extended shop tour and return to Chicago on a regular train.

See you on the train!
