

Railcar Roller Curtains

Blue 15 Reading roller curtain

An example of a roller curtain matrix is shown here. A train operator can electronically select destination specific readings. This matrix represents the Blue 15 reading curtain which is actually one continuous piece. On routes which loop downtown inbound trains display a "Loop" reading. Upon arriving at the first station, the operator changes the destination sign to show the outer terminal.